Offshore support vessel owner Tidewater has picked up a new contract for one of its platform supply vessels in the UK sector of the North Sea.

Offshore brokers report the 2007-built North Promise has been fixed on supply duties for 12 months to TotalEnergies.

No dayrates have been disclosed for the contract starting in June, with further extension options attached.

Earlier this year, the 4,900 dwt PSV secured spot fixtures with Enquest and Shell.

Another Tidewater PSV was recently fixed to Spirit Energy. The 2013-built Troms Lyra has been contracted for around 100 days to support the plug and abandonment jackup rig Well-Safe Protector.
