Ship Concept 2035

Splash

Splash • May 23, 2025 🔥 349 📖 Less than a minute

This magazine identifies how ships will operate and look like in 2035, seeking the views of owners, operators, charterers, managers, specialist service providers, and seafarers.

Splash polled our readership on a huge range of topics to gauge opinion on how dramatically different ships coming out of shipyards in 10 years' time will look like.

To assess the design of tomorrow's ships our reporters factored in incoming regulations, the runners and riders in the future fuel race, changing seafarer skillsets, port constraints, shipyards, connectivity, and artificial intelligence.
